of Good Hope, put into two or three ports on the way, and inally brought up in Aspinwall for repairs and supplies to continue her voyage.

On arrival, the captain and owner, John A. Dawes, had to dispose of his cargo for half its value, but Consul Rice suspecting him to be a runaway stopped the trade and with the aid of Lloyds agent, Mr. Cowan, succeeded in procuring all her papers, and proved a plain case of barratry against the captain. A guard from the United States ship Maskinaw was then placed on board of her by the Consul, who will send her to New York, consigned to the Collector of Customs. The Jackmel Packet, originally an American vessel, was afterwards changed to British, and by the aid of the United States gunboat Singapore, was again onabled to procure an American flag, under which she came to Aspiuwall. This is one of the few cases of barratry in which a seizure has been made.

From the capital of the Republic dates are te the let instant. The Grenadian Gen, Mosquera continues his war against the Church, and has advised the further confication and sale of Church property. He has instructed the Executive of New Grenada to seize all the cannon and other war material crossing the Isthmus for the Pacific Republic sat war with Spain. He has also decreed that the nation shall remain neutral in the war, and gives liberty to both belligerents to bring prizes into the ports of the Republic for sale.

ECUADOR,

ECUADOR. The government of Colombia has notified to that of the Republic of Ecuador that it is convenient in the actual position of South America in relation to the question with Spain, to suspend all negotiations and reclamations in reference to the question of limits, or any other pending between that nation and the sister republics connected with her, except in cases where satisfactory arrangements can be sarrived at in a direct and peaceable manner, without the intervention of any other power. In consequence, Colombia has rejected the good offices of Chill, which the latter power had officed for the settlement of questions pending setween Colombia and Ecuador, The government of Ecuador is not satisfied with the withdrawal of Chill, because that country intered into the question by virtue of a solemn compact. In reference to the suspension of negotiations, Ecuador is contented that it should be so, not only in regard to colombia, but in the case of other republics similarly situated with regard to her. s convenient in the actual position of South profusely decorated with the British and contending yachts, while the walls were Bennett, Jr., and a host of other toasts of a VALPARAISO, Dec. 3.-The peace media on of Eugland and France continues to form the leading question in political cir oles, and there is considerable division of opinion in regard to the details. The official organ, LA REPUMIDA, speaks of peace, while ministers do not healtate to speak open-ly of war. At the same time there are those by or war. At the same time there are those who profess to be acquainted with the inner operations of the Government, who incline to the belief that the terms will be accepted! The press appears, however, to give pretty generally against the proposed mediation.

The present Minister of State, Senor Coraralijas, left in the Valdirra two days ago for Feru. His visit at this time to Lima is most significant, and probably involves the final decision of these countries in regard to peace. The squadron which was to have sailed so long sag, is still here, and it is likely will be detained until his return.

The U. S. Consul went on board the Independence the other day, on an official risit, and the old flag which Admiral Tucker fought against for four years, was hoisted and magnificently saluted.

By the last steamer the Rov. Mr. Merivin from Brooklyn arrived here. The French ship Lucie, which was taken at Valparaiso carrying contraband of war to the Spaniards, has been set free, but her cargo has been confiscated. The fiscal agent and supercarge of the vessel is a citizen of the United States, and he has appealed to the Supreme Court for their decision.

PERU. Touching the mediation of England and France in Spanish and Peruvio-Chilian difculties, it has now transpired that the me diating ministers have abstained from offe ficulties, it has now transpired that the mediating ministers have abstained from offering the terms proposed by their governments, as they were confident they would not be entertained, and they have also represented that the allies are in a better position to resist Spain than she to attack them, adding that any attempts Spain might make to force her views of reparation on the allies would only result in disaster to that unhappy power. The ministers are awaiting replies to their dispatches.

The F. S. N. Co.'s steamer Santiago ran achore through mistaking a light for that of the Mole, which on the night in question had not been lighted, at the Bay of Place. It was 48 hours before she was got off.

The Pacific Steam Navigation Company, from rival interests, has been experiencing some opposition in Callao from the commercial men of that place. Indeed, so high does the spirit of opposition run that the merchants here have had three very influential meetings, and have petitioned the government to curtail the concessions made to the company, and there can be no doubt that such overwhelming influence as is brought to bear on the diotator will compelhim to do something.

Charges of peculation have been fulminated by Senor D. A. Bergardus, against the ex-Minister of Finance, Don Manual Pardo, who will be arraigned before the Central Court on a criminal charge, and it is likely that the Peruvian Minister at Washington will be called upon to present himself before the same court to answer charges which will be preferred against him as an accomplice of Pardos.

The U. S. steamer Wateree arrived at Valparaiso from Guayaquil and Payts on the left inst. The officers and crew arrived at Payta in just opportune time to extinguish a fire which threatened the destruction of the whole town. There has also been a large fire at Iquique, which fortunately did not extend to the saltpetre deposits, and thus was aved the whole castern portion of the town from destruction.

The exports of the products of Peru from Jan. 1st to Oct. 31st, 1866, amounted in value to $25,57,973.

The sailing of the Spanish vessels Beselucion, Concepcion and Trinidad from Rio Janeiro, on the 22d Oct., and of the Consucla from Montevideo, all with six months provisions on board, and without announcing their destination, has given rise to considerable coujecture in Peru; some suppose they have sailed for Cuba, and others that they are bound for the Malvine Islands to jois the Numancia and other vessels which left the Phillipine Islands some time since. The press in Lima and Caliso have just startled the country by the publication of a statement made by Senor Bogardus, in which he aubmits to the government particulars of the most gigantic frauds perpetrated by the late Minister at St. James; other officials are implicated as acting in concert with Senor Barreda. It is asserted that on the guano contracts alone the ex-Minister has pocketed not less than nine million dollars. North is not of a strictly political character, but that he proceeded thither at the request of certain bondholders, with a view to arrange, if possible, for an extension of the time required for the payment of interest, and thus save the credit of the State. Independent of this, however, Governor Patton was delegated by the meeting at his home to proceed to Washington and confer with the President and others upon the question of the Amendament as applicable to the restoration of the State. MONTGOMERY, Dec. 30 .- Senator of this State, has returned to his home from his late visit to Washington. He is still desided in the expression of his opinion that the State of Alabama ought not to accept the Amendment, and urges upon the Legis-lature and people to stand firmly by the President, and trust to him for a final satis-factory, issue. The Northern people, he says, will yet see the wisdom of the South in refusing to accept the amendment, and when once a correct view is taken, they will adopt such measures as will secure the restoration of Alabama and all the States to their political equality in the Union.

It appears that the outhwest of the town of Nevada, leveling houses, trees, and everything in its cour Had the hurricane gone directly over the own, it is impossible to calculate what damage it might have done. At Peak Ra fine Grove thirty-two large trees were bro ken in twain eight or ten feet from the ground and shivered into kindling wood, as though it had been the work of lightning. Large houses were picked up by the wind and carried some distance, and thrown nass of ruins to the ground. On the course of the northward its width was about 500 feet. It was by far the most terrific storm which has ever occurred in California.

Minnesota. The New Ulm Outrage-Heavy Lumber

Sr. Paul, Dec. 31,-The latest particular, of the New Ulm barbarity show that Dis comb, one of the men hung, was already mertally wounded by blows on the hear with a hatchet, so that the brains ran out. He also had one eye out out, which was hanging over his cheek, and was mortally out in the neck. He could not have lived an hour in the condition in which he was when hung. The party from Mankato, which went to bring down the bodies, could not find them, and got no explanation, but found a hole in the ice and numerous bloody marks. Other indications show plainly that the bodies were put under the ice.

The Press publishes a statement, showing that forty-five million feet of loge and fifty two million feet of lumber were run out of St. Croix River this year. The quantity cotimated to be out this Winter is ninety millions. Lumbering in the woods is backwards from lack of snow.4

therein, has jurisdiction legally to try and sentence said Milligan in the manner and form as in said petition and exhibits it is stated?

Justice Davis delivered the opinion of the Court, in which he said one of the plainest Constitutional provisions was infringed upon when Milligan was tried by a court not ordained and established by Congress. No reason of necessity could be urged why he was not delivered to the circuit of Indiana to be proceeded against according to law, and another guarantee of freedom was broken when he was denied a trial by jury. To the first two questions the Court gave an affirmative answer, and the majority gave a negative to the last one.

Chief Justice Chase for himself, and Justices Wayne, Swayne and Miller being unable to concur in some important particulars with the opinion which had been read, made a separate statement of their views of the whole case. He said the trial and sentence of Milligan were by a Military Commission convened in Indiana during the fall of 1864. The action of the commission had been undersconsideration by President Lincoln for some time, when he himself became the victim of an abhorred conspirator. It was approved by his successor in May, 1865, and sentence was ordered to be carried into execution. The proceedings, therefore, had the fullest sanction of the Executive Department of the Government. It was clear the writ ought to isaue, and that Milligan was entitled to the discharge prayed for. The third question must be an swered negatively as an unavoidable inference from affirmative answers to the other two. We do not, he said, doubt that the positive provisions of the act of Congress require such answers. We do not think it may be thought to follow. The dissenting judges maintain that when the nation is involved in war, and some portions of the country are invaded, and all are exposed to invasion, it is within the power of Congress to athorize it, from which it may be thought to follow. The dissenting judges maintain that where psace exists the laws of pe

Few persons in this community will be able to look with satisfaction upon the re-sult of these trials. In some cases the ju-ries failed to convict in the face of the clear-est evidence, and seem to have seted upon a strange misconception of their duties. In the acquittal of Terence McDonald, a plain the acquittal of Terence McDonald, a plain failure of justice occurred. It is difficult to conceive why the juries should have taken so strange a view of their duties, oath and evidence. The three Fenians sentenced to death at Sweetsburg will probably share the fate of those in the like condition at Toronto. There can be no doubt that according to law, human and divine, these convicts have forfsited their, lives, but it is generally believed that royal elemency will be exerted to spare them.

To the Honorable the Board of Metropolitan Police:

GENTLENER: In the month of July, 1863, a committee of citizens was appointed for the purpose of offering relief to those who sustained injuries in the auppression of the riots which diagraced our city at that period. The entire amount contributed by patrictic citizens for the relief of the sufferers among the police and military engaged in suppressing the riots was $55,019, of which $20,000 was devoted by the Committee to the purposes intended, and found sufficient for the accompliahment of the object contemplated by the subscribers to the fund, leaving a balance in the hands of the Committee of $55,019.

A gray interfers proposed that this balance should be distributed among all the persons connected with the military and police force, who actually took part in the suppression of the riots, but upon more mature deliberation, the Committee concluded had in this case the amount which each military would receive would be so small as to $500 ittle or no value, and that the best dispetition that could be made of the money, and the one most in accordance with the views of the subscribers, was to invest it as a permanent fund, to be called "The Ries Brief Fund," under the charge of the Trustees, to meet fund, the conduction of the Trustees, to meet fund, the conduction of the Trustees, to meet aimilar cases which might in future arise.

In accordance with this determination the funds have been recently converted, and the trustees of the Riot Relief Fund, therefore, respectfully inform you that they propose, with your approval, on the last day of January, 1867, to give to such five of the members of the Metropolitan Police as you may recommend for meritorious services, the sum of $300 cach, and to such other ten members thereof as you may recommend for meritorious services, the sum of $200 cach, and to such other ten members thereof as you may recommend for meritorious services, the sum of $200 cach, and to such other ten members thereof as you may recommend for meri
